

2019 Spotlight Awards

- We introduced this program for the first time in 2016 and this is our 4th year of the Spotlight Award program.
- This recognition is given to individuals within Business Affairs in recognition of one or more of the following:
 - Alignment with department values
 - Cross department collaboration
 - Significant project results
 - Outstanding operations at the local level

Department	Name	Achievement
UIT	Srinivasa Pai	His contributions to applications like the Capital Accounting Debt Management System (CADMS) and Property Manager are well appreciated by our colleagues across Stanford. Notably, SeRA has been under his technical leadership and has seen major technical improvements with custom solutions. Thank you for all you contribute and for your significant improvements.
UIT	Molly Sharp	As the Manager of Business Relations and Planning in UIT, Molly effectively manages the staff who are the liaisons between UIT and our campus partners. One of the most important keys to her success is her natural ability to form highly effective, trusting relationships both within UIT, but also across Stanford's broader IT community. Thank you, Molly.
UIT	Krystal Kelley	Krystal is always focused on how to make the Stanford experience better. The ID Card Office interacts with almost everyone on campus, as well as spouses, significant others, dependents, visitors, and more. She works tirelessly to make that interaction a positive one. You are absolutely an example of someone to spotlight!
UIT	Joshua Barnett	As Director of Enterprise Windows Cloud Data Infrastructure, Joshua and team manage a large and complex portfolio of services. He consistently exemplified a spirit of collaboration and partnership by seamlessly working across many Business Affairs and distributed IT groups to ensure that these services were robust, secure and continuously improving. Thank you for all you do, Joshua.

UIT	Anne Pinkowski	Anne has specifically been recognized for this award because of her contributions and leadership in the 'Neurodiversity in IT' program. Her innovations increased many workgroup's understanding of the topic and, in several instances, enabled these teams to be more welcoming of differences. Your work and advocacy enabled four neurodiverse individuals to find meaningful work and another fourteen young adults have been provided internships which could create pathways toward stable careers. Great job, Anne.
UIT	Dani Aivazian	Dani, your leadership, creativity and vision improve all initiatives you are involved in delivering. One example of where you have added your touch and your magic is the IDEAL IT initiative (which includes Women in Technology, Year Up, Neurodiversity in IT, and People of Color in Technology). In all that you do, you inspire and lead your peers in their work and create opportunities for collaboration. Thank you for the magic, Dani.
FMS	Nazima Chowdhary & Anshu Tiku	The two of you, as the GBS Advisory team, tackle all types of challenging global concepts, ideas, projects and business problems encountered by faculty, students and staff across Stanford and you do so in over 140 countries. Your work is a model for others to leverage. Well done!
FMS	Ian Choe	Ian, you have done an exceptional job in working on the Tax Cuts and Job project. Your "can do" attitude helped propel the team forward in creating a thoughtfully designed solution that enabled us to report the impact of the net investment income excise tax in the University's FY19 annual financial report. Thank you for all you do and especially for your commitment to deliver exceptional quality!
ORA	Laura Register	Your role as Assistant Director for Subaward Oversight and Compliance is to ensure Stanford maintains a clean record with sponsor, federal, and Stanford requirements for the issuance, administration, monitoring, and documentation of subawards. Under your oversight, Stanford has not had a single Subrecipient Monitoring audit finding over the seven (7) years of your tenure. Thank you for your diligence and great work!

OCRO	Vinita Bali	You have provided guidance and expertise for safety, security, and travel logistics in challenging medical and geo-political destinations on numerous research projects. You regularly consult with the Bing Overseas Studies Program, GSB, Haas, Law School, H&S, and SOM as well as individual faculty, staff, students and administrators of various departments on their global activities, seminars and internship programs. Thank you, Vinita for all your hard work!
